

Speed:

✎ Use a black crayon

1

2

3

4

5 slowfast

Size:

✎ Use a black crayon

1

2

3

4

5 smalllarge

Personality:

✎ Fill in one box with black crayon

fiercephappyscared

Plesiosaurs may have had long necks so they could sneak up on schools of fish without frightening them with their large bodies. Their neck bones were locked together so they couldn't bend them very far.

MU SEA UM

AUSTRALIAN NATIONAL MARITIME MUSEUM

Exhibition Partner

QUEENSLAND MUSEUM NETWORK

Queensland Government

Sea Monsters

Prehistoric
Ocean Predators

Colourful characters

Long-necked Plesiosaur

- Colour in your monster
- How big and how fast is it? Use a black crayon and colour in the bars to choose
- Is it fierce, happy or scared? Use a black crayon and colour in a box to choose
- Scan your sheet to see your monster come to life